

Courtroom Presentation Systems

Alberta Justice – Edmonton

Genesis Communication Inc. has designed and installed two multimedia presentation systems used in high-profile criminal trial courtrooms in Edmonton.

The design of these courtrooms includes the ability to present from a variety of sources including videotape, computer generated graphics, and hard-copy material using an Elmo visual presenter.

The Court Reporter maintains control over the presentation system using touch-panel control and can choose to send video from the evidence computer or other sources to the Judge, lawyers and witness. Material is also displayed on the two projection screens on either side of the Judges bench. This allows the public gallery and the accused to see what material is being discussed.

The Court Reporter may also allow members of the Crown or Defense teams to control or search the evidence computer for relevant materials for display. This is made possible through an advanced keyboard/mouse control system.

The increasing reliance on electronic storage for evidence in large criminal and civil trials makes this system a significant time-saver in handling media for presentation before judge and jury.
